How do you know if a pupil needs extra help?

When your child first joins Kettering Buccleuch Academy, we use information from a range of sources to help identify SEND needs. This includes information from parents/carers; nursery and primary school teachers; end of key stage levels and base line testing; MidYIS Testing: literacy and numeracy tests; application form information; specialist colleagues and external agencies such as the Specialist Support Services.

Our class and subject teachers, Assistant Head in Primary, Heads of Department and progress leaders in secondary, closely monitor the progress and attainment of all students, including those who have or may have SEND. The continuous monitoring of students during their time at Kettering Buccleuch Academy will further identify pupils with a special educational need. This identification may come from class teachers, tutors, subject teachers, Teaching Assistants, Heads of Year, outside agencies, parents/carers or the pupils themselves. If your child needs to be assessed we would use a range of assessments depending on the area of need. If it is thought a family needs support, we have good working relationships with outside agencies and a referral can be made to them or an Early Help Assessment maybe lead by one of our welfare team.

We follow a staged and graduated approach to identifying and assessing needs, using the 'Assess, Plan, Do, Review' model. The triggers for intervention could be the teacher's, teaching assistants, or others concerned, underpinned by evidence, about a pupil who, despite receiving differentiated learning opportunities, does make expected progress.

All students with SEND are on the SEND register which is accessible to all staff. Staff use this information to inform their lesson planning, teaching and student learning activities. Targeted interventions are planned and delivered where appropriate. This may include small group or individual work across a broad range of activities.

3a. How the school evaluates the effectiveness of its provision for such pupils	How will I know that my child is making progress?	All students, including those with SEND, are assessed on a regular basis, in accordance with the Academy's assessment procedures. Teachers formally assess and review progress and attainment twice a year which is communicated to parents/carers by a report that is sent home. Additionally, academic parents' evenings are held once a year when there is an opportunity to discuss progress, attainment and next steps. All students with an Education, Health & Care Plan have an Annual Review. Primary SEND students who are on the SEND register will also have a termly review with their teacher.
	How do you evaluate provision?	The school has a Quality Assurance process that assesses the effectiveness of Teaching and Learning for all students, including those with SEND and the outcomes of these evaluations are used to create and implement development plans for all aspects of school life. Additionally, progress and attainment data for students is analysed for impact and to inform future planning.
3b. The school's arrangements for assessing and reviewing the progress of pupils with special educational needs and disabilities		Progress leaders class teachers and Heads of Department will monitor and review your child's levels and pick up on any subjects where your child is not making the right amount of progress. We will then put an intervention in place. At the next reporting time we will check whether progress has been made or whether different intervention or support is needed.
		We welcome the involvement of parents/carers and want to keep you up to date and involved with your child's progress. We do this through parents' evenings; direct discussion at the start and end of the day; email; telephone calls; appointments made with individual teachers and Annual Reviews/termly reviews (for those on the SEND register).  The school provides information for parents through newsletters; information on the website; twitter Open/Information days; Parents Evenings and letters home. Knowledge organisers outlining curriculum topics delivered per half term are published on the website for parents to access.

3c. The school's approach to teaching pupils with special educational needs and	How do teachers help pupils with SEND?	Quality first teaching is at the centre of our inclusive ethos. Our teachers have high expectations of all students, including those with SEND. All teachers will be told about your child's individual needs and will adapt their lessons to meet these requirements. This may involve using different strategies, more practical/adaptation of resources and activities. This means your child can access the lessons fully.
disabilities		SEND curriculum co-ordinators in secondary work closely with the SENDCO to co-ordinate quality first teaching.
		A student may be identified as needing additional help or intervention, in which case you would be informed. There are a range of interventions and additional subject support which are available and should your child need this, it would be discussed with you.
		When your child is approaching the start of Key Stage 4, if we think it is needed, we will assess and apply for exam Access Arrangements according to the Joint Council for Qualifications for exam regulations.
3d. How the school adapts the curriculum and learning	How will the curriculum be matched to my child's needs?	Most of our students follow the national curriculum, however a small number of learners have a more personalised curriculum to match their individual needs, interests and abilities. This may include; additional literacy; nurture sessions; intervention groups and the number of qualifications studied.
environment for pupils with special educational needs	How accessible is the school environment?	Our school is a safe and accessible building and it is welcoming to the whole community. All safeguarding procedures and risk assessments are in place and adhered to by all staff. We have a range of different facilities to help SEND students throughout our school including a lift in Primary and a lift in Secondary to access all areas; Disabled toilets; wide corridors and equipment to help with reading and writing.

In Secondary we have a selection of staff to support students to address additional needs, including those with SEND. This includes the SENDCO, Assistant to the SENDCO, SEMH lead professional, Teaching Assistants and a SEN Administrator.
	How is the decision made about how much/what support my child will receive?  What triggers the consideration of an EHCP?	Resources are allocated based on evidence of need and effectiveness. Students with an EHC Plan have resources allocated as outlined in their plan. Teaching Assistants are allocated, where resources allow, to support students in and outside of the lessons depending on their area of need.  Students with EHCPs will have targets and strategies set by their class teacher or their form teacher in conjunction with the SENDCO. Annual Reviews involving the student, parents/carers, subject staff, form tutor or class teacher and other professionals evaluate those targets and strategies. The decision is based on evidence of need and impact.
		When a student's needs are more complex, we may consider requesting an EHCP. We work alongside external professionals and parents and gather evidence to support this request.
